OBITUARIES

Joseph Watkins

Joseph Watkins, a pioneer of Phoenix, died on Saturday night at the home of John Bennett on the Buckeye road. Mr. Watkins had made his home there for almost a quarter of a century. Until eight years ago, Mr. Watkins had for many years run an express wagon. The funeral services will be held under the direction of the Salvation Army and will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Moore & McLellan funeral chapel.

ADD THE WAR TAX TO THEATER TICKETS WITHOUT PROTEST

The whole-hearted and public-spirited manner in which the people of Phoenix responded to the new government war tax law in the purchase of their theater tickets called for praise by Brandon Brothers, managers of the Elks theater, who had feared that they might experience some difficulty in handling the situation. But, on the contrary, there was nothing but pleasure on their part and an evident willingness on the part of their patrons. If there is any difference to be noted they declared it is that the war tax will tend to increase business as evidenced by expressions of patrons at the box office. All the playgoers are not only willing, but anxious to contribute, through this medium to the war fund and out of the thousands handled at the Elks since the revenue law assumption of the theater has not been a single dissent, but most of them take the time to express themselves as more than pleased with the new regulation.

It has been quite a burden upon the box office help to handle extra tickets and make change in pennies, nickels and dimes, where before they dealt only in even sums of money, yet the crowds have taken the slight delay most good-naturedly and in a spirit of patriotism, rather than from a standpoint of theatrical patronage.

As the patrons get more used to the new tickets and the tax law better service can be rendered through the box office and in the meantime the management respectfully request their patrons to make reservations as early as possible. It is the policy of the Elks to raise the curtain promptly at 8:15 so that the performance will be over at 10:30, permitting those living at a distance to reach home at a reasonable hour.

The Ed. Redmond company will open their sixth week tonight, presenting for the first time in Phoenix, Geo. M. Simons' greatest musical comedy, "Talk of New York," in which there are more big song hits and clever comedy than any of the Cohan plays.

The Redmonds will give way on Tuesday and Wednesday nights for the first road attraction of the season, returning on Thursday for the balance of the week, with their usual Saturday and Sunday matinees. Make reservations now by phoning 717.

1,094 ATTEND THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

"We more than reached our aim—we thank you all for helping," said W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church. One thousand was the aim of this Bible school for International Go-To-Sunday-School Day, and 1,094 people actually attended. In the men's and women's class were 600, and the collection in this class alone was $42.

Byron Pixley, one of the greatest instrumental musicians in the southwest, favored the audience with several solos on the marionophone. The Christian Bible School orchestra, under the leadership of Mrs. Grube, rendered special music, and Prof. E. P. Burley, the regular church director, during the morning service led the singing, and as a solo sang, "There Were Ninety and Nine."

During the past two weeks Rev. Buchanan has attended the International Convention of the Churches of Christ at Kansas City, and was very enthusiastic in his praises of the faithful workers who made it possible for the large attendance. In speaking of his visit at Camp Funston, Rev. Buchanan said in part:

"The Arizona boys are very courageous. They are living in the barracks at Camp Funston without any fire whatever. That is no criticism upon our government, for it is doing its very best. They have a hot water bath to bathe their faces in, but these boys are having their good times there just the same."

After communion and song services

FUEL PRICE AND SUPPLY WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Men to Gather Data Have Been Appointed by Fuel Administrator Clark; To Hold First Meeting Nov. 6

State Fuel Administrator Will L. Clark, has made appointment of a state advisory committee, to aid him in securing data concerning the fuel supply of Arizona, its distribution and price. This work will be participated in, as well, by local committees making report of conditions in their own towns or counties.

The first meeting of the new committee will be held with the state fuel administrator at 118 North Central avenue in this city on Tuesday morning, November 6. The committee's membership comprises:

Charles M. Shannon of Florence, a pioneer Arizonan, now farming in Pinal county, for many years a miner and cattle raiser in the Gila section. For a term he served as collector of internal revenue in the Arizona-New Mexico district.

H. F. Griswood, general manager for the McVell company of Phoenix, who brings to the work much knowledge of a technical nature. From 1907 to 1913 he was with coke companies in Pennsylvania, as auditor and cost accountant. The last three years secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. who is familiar with the production and cost systems and as auditor for individual coal and coke companies.

Thomas J. Croff, classified civil service employee of the Phoenix office, of ten years' postoffice experience and an attorney at law, as well. Mr. Croff is president-elect for the Arizona State Federation of Labor. On assumption of the duties of that office he will visit all the principal cities and mining camps of the state.

BOYS' GREAT CHANCE TO MAKE SOLDIER'S LIFE WORTH WHILE

"The boy of the great southwest is rarely to be seen in the Kaiser. In the short time that I have had the opportunity to talk to the boys of Arizona and New Mexico, I have seen such enthusiasm to help the American soldier in the trenches as would make the boys in khaki weep tears of joy if they could but see this. This is the message that G. E. Simmons, boys' secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. who is making a tour of the southwest organizing the boys to help the war work campaign.

The United States army men have recognized the worth of the willingness to do something to help win the war that the American boy has. And so the boy scouts have been recognized by the president as the official organization of the boys of the United States through which the energy of the boys may be utilized in this world's war.

The Y. M. C. A. also has given the boy his work in the great drive for $35,000,000 with which to make the life of the soldier worth while. That they will do it is indicated by the message that "Bo" Simmons flashed back to Phoenix from New Mexico. The boys of Phoenix will be given an opportunity to play their part in this campaign. When Mr. Simmons returns to Phoenix he will organize the Phoenix boys into teams, and when the Phoenix lads hit the trail in Capital City it will begin to rain gold.

It is planned that the boys will raise the sum of $1,000,000, which they are to use in the making up and sending of parcels to allied prisoners in German prison camps. To the boys of the country has fallen the doing of the greatest life-saving work of the war, for in many cases a parcel containing a little food, a little clothing and much cheer means the difference between life and death to these prisoners, many of whom have been in barred wire enclosures for from two to three years.

The Y. M. C. A. is handling the parcel service and mail service for the prison camps in Germany, and a part of the money that is to be raised in the coming Y. M. C. A. campaign for $35,000,000 is to be devoted to the care and conservation of the lives of the men in these camps.

The statement was recently made that it is exceedingly important that this work be well organized and well financed before any of our American boys get into these camps as prisoners, but as a matter of fact, there is a considerable number of them there now, either men who had previously joined the allied countries or men who have been taken prisoners in the U. S. war.

Naturally the Y. M. C. A. secret-

ART EXHIBIT WAS PLEASING TO MANY

A valuable collection of Arizona paintings by the well known Chicago artist Jessie Benton Evans was shown on Friday at the Miller-Stevenson art exhibit at Guild hall. Jessie Benton Evans spent some months last winter in Scottsdale making sketching trips throughout the surrounding country. Especially notable among those in the exhibit was a large canvas entitled "From the Tempe Bridge." One of the most attractive pictures shown was a canvas by Kate Cory of Prescott entitled "Bald Hill at Sunset." The workmanship of this picture made it to many the gem of the collection. Among others were foreign facsimiles, American prints, paintings and lithographs.

The exhibit attracted large numbers who were enthusiastic in their praise.
